Lamar Foley named city superintendent

RETIRING SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER William Coward, left, is shown receiving a plaque of appreciation for his five years of service. Presenting the award was Board Chairman Tom Maddox, right, who is holding the photograph of Coward that was hanging in the Superintendent's office and is customarily given to the retiring board member.

The Elba City Board of Education met in special session on Tuesday, June 14 and voted unanimously to employ Lamar Foley as Superintendent of Education.

Foley will assume the duties effective July 1 and will replace Billy Crews, who resigned recently to accept a position with the Alabama State Department of Education.

Supt. Crews told the board that ten members of the present staff had Masters Degrees in Administration and were state certified to hold the position of superintendent.

These staff members included Lamar Foley, Dale Crowe, Roland King, Mack Wood, Willie Tyson, Charles Pearce, Buddy Windham and Mickey McCollough.

Board chairperson Nadine White stated that "We should look at the qualified personnel in the system first" and opened the meeting to discussion of potential superintendent candidates.

Board members were unanimous in their opinions that Lamar Foley had the support of both the faculty at the city schools and the citizens of the community and the board voted unanimously to name Foley as superintendent, giving him a two-year contract.

Mr. Foley was called into the meeting and notified of the board's decision and in accepting the post stated "I appreciate the challenge and opportunity you have offered me. The schools in this fine city have excellent staffs and I'm looking forward to working with everyone in the system and the community."

Foley is a graduate of Elba High School and later received a BS Degree from Troy State University and a Masters Degree from Auburn University.

He began his career in education as a teacher in the Coffee County School System, then was employed with the Federal Bureau of Investigation for two years. He returned to education as a teacher and coach at Zion Chapel High School for a period of six years and then served as the principal at Elba High School for 24 years. For the past three years Foley has worked in the central office of the Board of Education.

"Having been associated with the Elba school system for the past 27 years I know the ins and outs of the system from top to bottom," said Foley. "I know the good points and the short comings in the system and I assure you the good points far outweigh the bad. I am looking forward to the challenge of being superintendent and confident that I can serve the people and students well."

County youth shot Saturday at dance at Elba teen club

A fight at a teen center in Elba over the weekend erupted into what police officers described as a "brawl" and left one youth hospitalized with a gunshot wound.

Elba Police Officer Randy White reported that Elba police responded to a report of a fight at a popular teen center in the Mulberry Heights section of the city on Saturday night, June 11 and after arriving at the scene discovered several fights underway both inside and outside the building.

While the officers were attempting to break up the fights outside, shots were heard inside the building and the officers rushed inside to find a juvenile who had been shot in the side with what was believed to be a .22 or .25 caliber weapon.

The youth, age 17, was taken to Elba General Hospital and reported to be in stable condition on Tuesday.

Police are continuing their investigation into the shooting and expect an arrest prior to the end of the week.

Two Elba men arrested during Covington County drug bust

A two-month investigation by the Alabama Beverage Control Board, Covington County Sheriff's Department and the Opi and Andalusia police departments culminated last week with the arrest of 24 area residents, including two Elba men.

Investigators from the ABC Board and the Dothan Police Department reportedly went undercover an attempt to make drug buys that resulted in the arrests and those arrested were allegedly dealing in marijuana, cocaine, crack cocaine and valium.

Elba men arrested during the investigation included Harvey Albert Gullion, age 34, of Rt. 5, Elba, charged with unlawful distribution of controlled substances and two counts of negotiating a worthless negotiable instrument and Thomas Harold Tucker, age 24, of Rt. 2, Elba, charged with unlawful distribution of controlled substances.

Two Kinston residents were also included among those arrested, with the men being identified as Douglas C. Moore, age 24 and Lalan Ferron Weeks, of Rt. 2, Kinston.

Potential water shortage prompts request for cutback in water use

Mayor Bob English said Wednesday morning that local citizens need to conserve water due to the nationwide dry weather problem.

He explained that Elba is not at present in an emergency situation, but daily monitoring shows the local water supply is dropping and could become a bad problem if usage is not curbed.

English asked that people living

South of U.S. Highway 84 do not water lawns or wash their cars on Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday.

People North of U.S. Highway 84 are urged not to water lawns or wash their cars on Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

These restrictions will last only until the extreme water shortage is ended.

Elba school board to add three staff members to city schools

The Elba City School Board accepted a superintendent's recommendation and approved the addition of three positions in the system including a counselor for the elementary and middle schools, a Spanish/English teacher and an assistant band director/elementary choral director.

The board also received the resignation of Superintendent C.W. Crews after three years of duty and installed new board officers.

Crews said in his prepared letter that he was accepting a position with the State Department of Education effective July 1.

The motion by member Gareth Lindsey to accept the resignation included the comment that "We would be remiss to stand in his way of bettering himself." The vote to accept the resignation with one year remaining on the contract was unanimous.

Nadine White was installed to chair the board with Stan Marsh serving as the vice chairperson. This is done annually and normally the person who has served the longest assumes the position as chairperson. Also new board member Bob Robertson was welcomed to the meetings.

PARTY BOAT LOAD OF LOCAL CITIZENS who are shown returning from a scenic cruise down Pea River last Saturday during the SEABASS project titled "Protect Pea River". During the daylong event, two party boats made scheduled trips down the river for interested citizens. Before the day was over, between 125 and 150 men, women and children had enjoyed the free trip. The organization is in an active campaign to improve the quality of Pea River, stock the river with fish, add picnic facilities and improve the boating access to the river along with other improvements and promote the river to tourist passing through this area.

Elba City Council asks city attorney to draw up ordinance to control yard sales within city

The Elba City Council met Monday at 5 p.m. with all members except John W. Sharpless present.

The council voted to extend for one year the lease on the hydro dam, voted not to build a sidewalk on Claxton Ave, opened bids on a piece of used machinery, turned down a request to buy property for the rescue squad, and decided to pass an ordinance controlling yard sales.

Two residents of Claxton Avenue, Mrs. Josh Tatum and Miss Totsye Rhoades, presented a petition to the council opposing the construction of a sidewalk on the west side of Claxton Avenue.

Mayor Bob English noted that city hall had polled residents on the East side of the Claxton and found that there were ten for the sidewalk on that side and ten opposed.

A motion by council member Jack Prescott to drop all plans to build a sidewalk along Claxton was passed unanimously.

Two bids were received on purchase of a used front end loader. A parent low bidder was Goshen Tractor Co. with a bid of $19,500, after trade-in of the present machine. A committee will check the machine and determine if it is worth the money.

The committee, appointed by English, consists of Council member Malcolm Davis, Jack Prescott and John Sharpless.

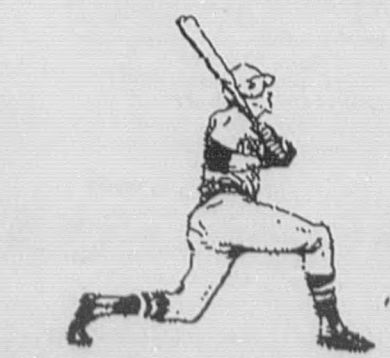

The council agreed to ask the city attorney to draw up an ordinance controlling yard sales. It will be considered at the next council meeting.

A request from the rescue squad that the city attempt to buy the Doris Taylor house was tabled after all council members present expressed an opinion that the city owns enough real estate.

The lease on the hydro dam was extended for one year at the request of lease holder Michel Gobaud, of France. He stated in his written request for the extension that problems had developed to cause him to be behind in this project. The motion approved by the council was for Gobaud to immediately pay the council the $20,000 that is past due and to pay an additional $40,000 within 60 days.

The council approved payment of bills totaling $14,865.64.

BRAINSTORMS

By Ferrin Cox

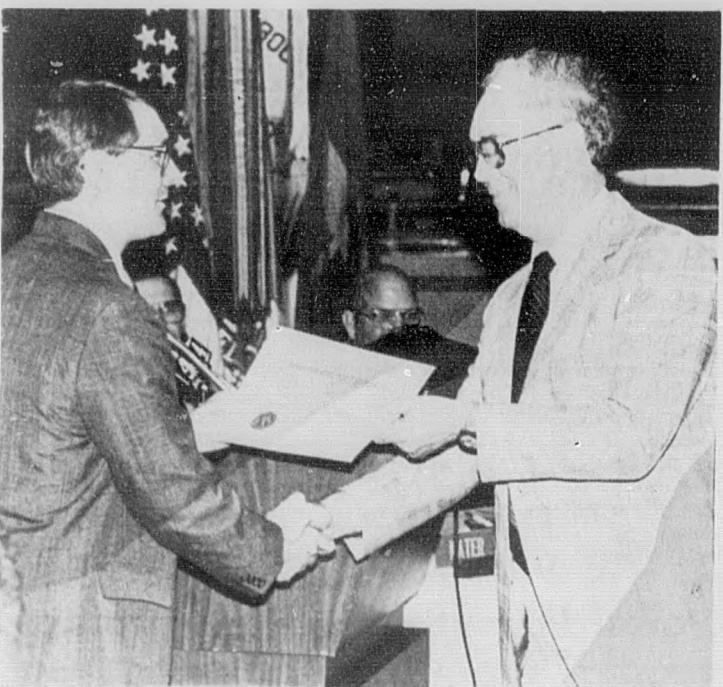

The first round of the nominating process is over with the statewide Democratic races decided and all but one local Democrat candidate already nominated. However on the Republican side there is one judge's race that will be settled in a June 28 run off. This means that we will have election officials sitting at the polls in Coffee County all day long at voting houses where not a single Republican voter turned out for the first round of the voting. The folks who live in the District One commission district in Coffee County and vote Democratic will have proper motivation to return to the polls, which is as it should be. However we tend to question our own election methods when the nomination system requires paying election officials to be on the job all day without a single voter showing up. We don't have an alternate solution, but do wish someone would devise one.

The SEABASS fishermen and their wives and/or girlfriends and children did a great public service last Saturday by conducting the free river cruises down Pea River for all comers. Actually they didn't take everyone who wanted to go, cause time ran out on them at about 7 p.m. after running two party boats all day long beginning at 8 a.m. Already another day of such activities is being planned for those who didn't get to make the trip last Saturday. The club members are open to ideas to add activities for those waiting on their scheduled boat trip. This could be crafts or whatever.

We repeatedly heard comments from returning boats of "how beautiful the scenery is on the river" and "I have lived here all my life and this is my first time to see this beautiful sight." We agree to the beauty and can personally testify that every season of the year offers beautiful scenery. We can all understand the spring flowers, summer things we see now and the fall colors but there is also beauty downriver in winter. This includes the iceicles hanging off the high marl banks on a cold winter day. We doubt those on these trips get much chance to see wildlife except the birds, because the motor sounds send them into cover, but a quiet drift trip downstream often surprise a variety of animals, including the beavers, raccoons, deer, etc.

The City of Elba is about to buy a used front-end loader to replace one we understand needs extensive repairs. City council members are told we need a larger machine than we have used for years, mainly to speed up the burying of trash. We have a hard time understanding the need for this machine as the City of Elba pays a firm to pick up and dispose of the trash and garbage at the county landfill. Frankly we would need to have some more convincing arguments than that have been used to date before we would vote in favor of buying this machine.

Elba School Superintendent C. W. Crews resigned last Thursday at the end of the board meeting and already the board has met and named a replacement. We wish Crews well as he moves to the state education office. We also offer our congratulations to Lamar Foley upon being named the new superintendent. He has been in this system for a whole bunch of years and this is a just reward for his years of service. We also observe that a lot of the people in Elba were hoping Foley would be named to the position. Then when you look at the business side of the matter, this is a money-saver. Mr. Foley was being paid by the state to manage the career ladder program in Elba. Now that this ill-planned project has been discontinued, there ain't any state money to fund the position. With the moving of Foley to the position of superintendent, the assistant super slot will not be filled at this time.

We Receive Letters....

Dear Editor,
Through the years Elba High School has produced an outstanding band that the entire community can be proud of.

We want to express our appreciation to all those who have supported us in the past as well as recently in our fund-raising Band Day.

Now, we need the continuing support and financial assistance of the townspeople to maintain our successful band program.

We generated a gross amount of $8,615.38 on Band Day, and netted $6,673.68. While this sounds like a great deal of money, the public needs to be aware of the many expenses and supplies required to maintain the band program.

Since we did not reach our goal on Band Day, and due to our expenses - we will have to have additional fund-raisers.

We have canceled the Bahama Music Festival.

The drum and colorguard camp has been re-scheduled to be held in Elba, due to lack of funds to send the students out of town.

Regular band camp will be held as scheduled; however, the usual band camp instructors may not be hired, and we may not have the quality instruction needed for our musical program.

Following is a financial report of funds raised on Band Day and the expenses.

We are doing everything possible to rectify this situation and we will appreciate all the help anyone can give us in the coming months.

Band Boosters will have a special meeting on Thursday, June 24, at 8 p.m. in the Band Room. All band parents are urged to attend.

Dear Editor,

I have done extensive genealogical research in your area but am unable to find information on my great-great-grandmother who lived in southeastern Alabama. May I appeal to your readers for help before I am back in that area this month.

According to family legend, this lady married first a Mr. Graham who died in an Atlanta hospital of wounds received in the Civil War. She was left a widow with at least three children: Sam, Mary, and Tom Graham.

Sam reared two families in the southeastern Alabama region. Mary married a Kilpatrick from Andalusia and reared a family.

Tom, my great-grandfather, married Fanny Oliver of Barbours County and had eight children with her. In 1907, he deserted that family, moved to South Carolina, changed his name to something like McMahon, reared another family, and died somewhere there in the early 1930's.

Sometime after she lost her first husband, my great-grandmother married a Mr. Ford and lived the rest of her life in your section of Alabama. She had a son or stepson named Frank Ford. She lived a very long life, until the 1930's, and was well over 100 years old when she died.

I feel sure there are people who remember Frankie Ford - the only name I have for her.

I would appreciate any information or leads on any of these people. If a reader has known of these Grahams or Fords, please contact me at 462 Summerhaven Dr., Columbus, MS, 39702, phone 601/328-0237, or contact Cathy Green at P.O. Box 1057, Enterprise, AL 36530, phone 205/347-1950.

Thank you in advance for all your help.

Sincerely,

SUE J. LIVINGSTON

Dear Editor,

We, the members of SEABASS, would like to thank all the merchants and individuals who donated money to our "Save the Pea River" project.

We would also like to thank all the people who came to the river Saturday June 11 for the boat rides - you helped make our project a tremendous success.

Thanks also to the area media for their coverage.

And a big "thank-you" to the SEABASS members' wives and children - without their help the project would not have been possible.

The response from the citizens of Elba and Coffee County has been overwhelming. Hopefully this is just the start of making Pea River the great resource it could be to Elba.

Thank you,

SCOTT FLOWERS

Secretary

Dear Editor:
I think this is a subject that the citizens of Elba need to know about.

ANIMAL LOVERS OF ELBA:
It's time we took a stand against the useless killing of the lost cats and dogs in town. If your pet gets loose and you're out looking for it, it can be dead before the sun goes down.

There are some people in this town who hate cats so much that they are trapping them for the dog catcher and they know they are being killed.

(Some of us think of our cats as our children when we don't have any.)

I know this is going on. I have looked for my cats and could not find any of them - I have lost about four that I loved.

It takes someone without a heart that can laugh when they see a small pet killed or be the killer and take a gun and shoot a poor puppy time and time again. A lot of them could be placed in homes if people would try.

I think it's time for a change in the dog catcher in Elba.

McArthur State Releases Results Of Vocational Survey

McArthur State Technical College President Raymond Chisum is taking issue with a recent survey conducted by the Alabama Council on Vocational Education regarding the effectiveness of the two-year colleges.

Chisum charges that the survey did not include a broad enough sampling of business and industrial leaders within the service area of McArthur State Technical College to determine any valid conclusions regarding the effectiveness of that institution.

Yet, the results reported in the statewide media were an indictment of all two-year institutions regarding their effectiveness.

One of the indictments was that two-year college educators have failed to ask business and industrial leaders for help in reviewing the two-year college programs.

According to Chisum, every program of study offered at McArthur State Technical College has a craft advisory committee composed of business and industry representatives which meet on a regular basis and at least three times each year.

These committees meet for the purpose of helping to keep the quality of the programs comparable to that of the state of the art. An annual craft committee dinner is held at McArthur Tech each year in October for the purpose of organizing committees and making assignments for the year.

"We have had more than one hundred in attendance at these annual meetings for several years," said Chisum.

"During this school year, we have sponsored several general equality seminars which involved employers, students, prospective students, and graduates of the institution."

"At one seminar, the personnel director of one Covington County employer stated that forty of their employees are MacArthur graduates, and the company looked to this institution as our primary source in meeting personnel requirements."

"Another personnel manager from Coffee County stated at one of the seminars that 25 percent of their present work force are graduates of MacArthur State Technical College."

"Another Coffee County employer stated that one reason his plant is still located in this area is the training opportunities received from MacArthur State Technical College."

Chisum pointed out that several of the programs currently being offered at MacArthur Tech enjoy 100 percent placement of the graduates.

Overall, he reported the placement of graduates to be 65 percent or better.

"One of the newest services provided by the college is a cooperative education program which places students in jobs for which they are being trained during a portion of each school year."

"We have experienced excellent support for this program from business and industry," stated Chisum.

"The cooperative education director confers with business and industrial leaders regarding their needs on a daily basis. Feedback from these contacts has strongly influenced our curriculum."

MacArthur Tech is currently providing customized or upgrade instructional training courses for several employers located within the school service area, including Alabama Electric Cooperative, Opp and Micolas Mills, Inc., Dorsey Trailers, and Amaco Fabricators.

"We are continually striving to serve the needs of our students as well as the needs of business and industry within our service area, and we extend a cordial invitation to any citizen wishing to visit MacArthur Tech and become more familiar with the programs of work being offered," he said.

"If you are a prospective student or an employer with training needs, we may be able to help you."

"Furthermore, we have developed a continuous process through which we have annually evaluated the effectiveness of MacArthur State Technical College for several years, and we have never had the kind of results which were reported in the statewide survey," he said.

CONFLICT MANAGEMENT: THE PEOPLE ARE CRUCIAL

One of the primary lessons in Acts 6:1-7 is the importance of the people who deal with conflict. Perhaps the most important matter in conflict management is the people involved.

Acts 6:1-7 contains an excellent biblical model for the selection of leaders who possess the ability to manage conflict skillfully. One notices immediately that the leadership of the early church was selected by the church (Acts 6:3 - "look ye out among you"). The church's responsibility for the selection of leadership is a crucial matter.

Acts 6:1-7 provides valuable help regarding the selection of leadership for the church. From this passage I will give attention to two of the biblical characteristics of good church leaders.

First, a good church leader is a person who is "full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom" (Acts 6:3). Any person who is asked to serve in any leadership position in the church should be a person who already has a good reputation because of the way he has lived and is living.

Second, a good church leader is a person who is "full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom" (Acts 6:3). Notice the close association of the Holy Spirit and wisdom in this biblical statement.

Someone described wisdom as "sanctified common sense." That is one of the greatest problem-solvers. In essence I understand wisdom as the doing of the best things for all concerned. The wisdom of the seven selected by the early church was revealed in the fact that their actions were the best for themselves, for the church (the Grecian and the Hebrew elements), and for the Lord.

Most likely each local church already has "among you" (Acts 6:3) people who possess these biblical qualities of leadership. Your church may not have seven of this caliber, but any church would be wise to select this kind of leadership.

The wise church keeps people of this caliber in its leadership positions. Thus she avoids many potential conflicts ("an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure"), and she has herself prepared to handle conflicts most wisely when they arise.

Leaders who possess these biblical qualities are a tremendous resource for conflict management.

The choosing of seven quality leaders to deal with the early church's problem also involved not choosing others - selection involves choosing, and that is stating it mildly.

Realistically, some people (a few) should be "avoided like the plague," swimming and soccer, and he was president of the sophomore class, vice president of the junior class, is a member of Boy Scouts of America, district president of Methodist Youth Fellowship, is active in various bands and singing groups, and participates in drama groups.

There are also some dangerous tendencies to avoid when selecting church leaders. Some of the most obvious are: avoid selecting leaders because of their popularity, their family ties, in order to prevent hurt feelings, and in order to get them involved in the church.

Like the words spoken in the context of conflict, the church's selection of leadership carries with it an either/or potential. The church may make bad situations worse by her selection of leadership, or she may enhance her ability to manage conflict skillfully by her selection of leadership. Thus tremendous care should be exercised in the church's selection of leaders.

Mrs. Flournoy Whitman Featured In Publication

Nancy Whitman, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Flournoy Whitman of Elba, and wife of the late Carlton Whitman, is quoted in a Kearney, Neb., publication as saying her role model "would more likely be her mother-in-law than her mother," when it came to seeking advice or wondering about a mother's reaction to her chosen career.

Mrs. (Carlton) Whitman's remarks were published in an article that appeared in the Kearney Hub, Kearney, Neb., on May 7, 1988, concerning mothers and others as role models for today's women.

Her inclusion in the article is quoted as follows:

"Nancy Whitman, a Kearney State College assistant music professor, said her role model more likely be her mother-in-law than her mother, when it came to seeking advice or wondering about a mother's reaction to her chosen career."

Whitman thought her mother-in-law was "so relaxed with the children," she said she looked to her as a role model.

"My mother was always up-tight, and wanted everything perfect," she said. "I don't think I asked for my mother's advice, I just learned by observation."

"Whitman said she always felt comfortable with her mother-in-law and has tried to treat her daughters-in-law the same way. 'I didn't want to be an interfering mother,' Whitman said, 'and I hope I am not.'"

Senior Citizens Enjoy Fellowship

By: Wanda Sasser

It was a real summer day when the Senior Citizens of Cordelia Street met for their weekly meeting at the HRDC Building on Simmons St. on June 9.

Of course the lovely rain we had was a topic of conversation, and talk was of gardens and vegetables. Some of our members played dominoes.

One of the members, W.J. Schmidt, had a birthday cake, and some of the wedding party of Clayton Goodson and Patsy Bell were present.

Everyone caught up on news about sick members, and three children were with us, since school is out.

A delicious lunch was served to the following:
Myrl Burkett, Grace Goodson, Helen McCahan, Pearl Farmer, Zaid Bouyer, Arthur Blackman, Mattie Lou Goodson, Clayton Goodson, William Schmidt, Rushie Blanton, Shirley Goodson, Mary Longfellow, Dixie Mae Maddox, Odell Reeves and grandchildren, Eli and Deanne Reeves; Frances Shabo and Jimbo Cole, M. Boling and Wanda Sasser.

Story Reunion Set For June

18th In New Brockton

The 14th annual reunion of descendants and relatives of James Alexander and Martha Ann Rebecca Story will be held Saturday, June 18, in the community room of the Farm Center in New Brockton.

A basket dinner will be served at noon. Crawford and Max Story will host the celebration. Those attending are encouraged to come about 10:30 a.m., bring a basket lunch and visit until luncheon.

Dr. Norman R. Dasinger, great-grandson of James Alexander Story, has researched and written a documentary history of the Story generations beginning in the 18th century in North Carolina. More than 400 descendants of Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Story are identified in the book.

The Storys emigrated to Coffee

County at the turn of the century from Upson County, Ga.

Dr. Dasinger will attend the reunion, and have copies of his book for purchase and autographing.

Local Residents Are Pioneers In Education Program

Donnie and Mary Corbett of Jack are two of the first students in Alabama to enroll in the new Management of Human Resources bachelor's degree completion program.

This innovative program, the only one of its type in the state, allows adult students with two years of college credit to complete their bachelor's degree in just one year, attending class just one evening a week.

MHR students are awarded the remaining credits required for graduation for "life learning experiences," which include experience gained both in the workplace and through seminars and other professional vehicles.

The program is offered by Faulkner University in Montgomery, a private, Christian, liberal arts institution with a tradition of service and excellence.

As MHR students, the Corbitts are able to take advantage of a revolution in education: adult learning theory. Instead of sitting in a classroom for long periods of prescribed time, the Corbitts complete most of their coursework on their own schedules.

Instruction is discussion-style, allowing the students to learn from each other's experiences.

Instruction is discussion-style, allowing the students to learn from each other's experiences.

The Corbitts' grades are based on their ability to apply learning, rather than to perform on a test of recall.

PREPARING FOR A PARTY

Have you ever had a friend who could cook almost anything and it always turn out perfect?

My friend, Judy O'Daniel, caters a lot of small parties where she lives and she has shared with me the following recipes.

All of these are super simple and I can personally guarantee they are excellent.

When planning for a party, always shop a day or two ahead if possible, so you can really cut down on preparation time the day of your party.

SALMON PARTY LOG
1 16-oz. can salmon
2 Tbsp lemon juice
2 tsp. horseradish
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4-1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/8-1/2 p.k. cream cheese, softened
3-1/2 tps. onion, grated
1/2 cup liquid smoke
Dash Worcestershire sauce
3 Tbsp. snipped parsley

Drain and flake salmon, removing skin and bones. Combine with next six ingredients; mix thoroughly. Chill several hours. Combine pecans and parsley. Shape salmon mixture into 8x2-inch log and roll in nut mixture. Chill well. Serve with crackers.

BACON WRAPPED WATER CHESTNUTS
1 can whole water chestnuts, drained
Dash of Tabasco (opt.)
Soy sauce
Toothpicks

Marinate whole water chestnuts in soy sauce one hour or more. Wrap whole water chestnut in one-half slice bacon and serve with toothpicks.

Bake in microwave oven until bacon is crisp or in oven at 350 degrees until bacon is done.

Variation: Wrap a piece of chunk-style pineapple in one-half slice bacon and spear with toothpick which already has a water chestnut threaded on it. Bake as above.

TANGY WIENERS
Cut 1 pound of wieners into bite-size pieces. In saucepan mix 1 small jar mustard and 1 small jar plum jelly, plum butter, or some kind of marmalade. Heat and stir until well-blended. Add wiener slices. Simmer until wieners are heated through. Serve in chaffing dish. Use toothpicks to serve.

ADRIENNE'S DELIGHT
12 ounces cream cheese
1/2 cup sour cream
1 envelope plain gelatin
1/2 cup white raisins
Grated rinds of 2 lemons
1 stick butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup slivered almonds, toasted
Saltine crackers

Cream cheese, butter, and sour cream. Add sugar. Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Add to cream cheese mixture. Then add raisins, almonds and lemon rind. Put in 1 quart mold and refrigerate. When firm, unmold and serve with saltine crackers. Can be frozen.

RECOGNIZE SODIUM COMPOUNDS
Coffee Countians who are reducing sodium in their diets often ask how to tell which foods have sodium. The following is a list of some of the sodium compounds added to foods.

Sodium alginate: used in cooking or at the table, and in canning and processing.

Baking powder: used to leaven quick breads and cakes.

Baking soda (sodium bicarbonate): used to leaven breads and cakes; and sometimes used as an "alkalizer" for indigestion.

Brine (table salt and water): used in processing foods to inhibit the growth of bacteria; in cleaning or blanching vegetables and fruits; in freezing and canning certain foods; and for flavor, as in corned beef, pickles and sauerkraut.

Disodium phosphate: present in some quick-cooking cereals and processed cheeses.

Monosodium glutamate (MSG): used in many condiments as a flavor enhancer. MSG is found in many condiments as a flavor enhancer. MSG is found in many condiments as a flavor enhancer.

Sodium hydroxide: used in food processing to soften and loosen skins of ripe olives, hominy and certain fruits and vegetables.

WASH OUTSIDE OF HOUSE
If the exterior of your house looks dull and dingy, you may want to try washing it before investing in a new paint job.

Washing the house isn't as overwhelming as it sounds, because you may not have to scrub the entire house. Areas exposed to rain and wind don't tend to get dirty, but areas sheltered by eaves, shutters, porches and trees are good candidates for cleaning.

The only dirt that accumulates on houses is best removed with a solution of water and an all-purpose detergent. You'll also need a brush and hose.

For greatest convenience, buy a long-handled hose brush - the type used for washing boats and cars. These brushes attach to a garden hose, and water passes through the hollow handle and triggers a rotating round brush. A telescoping handle or a brush with long extensions makes it possible to reach high places from the ground. Some brushes come with detergent dispensers operated with a trigger.

Start cleaning by wetting one entire wall surface with water. Be sure to wash from the bottom up, because when dirty and sudsy water runs down a wet surface, streaks that are difficult to remove don't occur. The sudsy water runs over a clean and wet surface without leaving streaks and can be flushed off immediately.

For stubborn streaks or stains, apply moistened detergent on the spot, let soak about five minutes, then scrub well and rinse off.

JOB OPPORTUNITY

Peanut Thrrips

I have never seen peanuts damaged by thrrips as they are this year. I have been in several fields that look like the bud of the peanuts has been burned with a blow torch. I am sure that the drought has added to the problem, but the high number of thrrips has really done the damage.

Many fields that were treated with a systemic did not get the protection from this treatment because of the dry weather. If you peanuts show this type of thrrips damage, you need to apply a foliar thrrip control. One-half to two-thirds of a pound of Orihene per acre along with a pint of surfactant in 100 gallons of water will do a good job. Do not apply this with any type of herbicide. If you are going to put on an application of Bravo, then you could mix it with it.

Other suggestions I would have if your peanuts are under this much stress from thrrips damage is not apply a herbicide that will burn your peanuts now. Control your thrrips, get your peanuts growing, and then apply a herbicide such as Gramoxone. If you have weed pressure now, I would suggest that you run your sweeps to control the weeds until your peanuts get over the stress of thrrips. Every field can be different. Check your fields before you apply any type of insecticide. This will save you money plus you will not need to apply an insecticide to kill the beneficial insects if you don't have to.

This is another challenging year to produce peanuts.

CHEESE BALL
2 8-oz. packages cream cheese
1/4 cup chopped bell pepper
18-1/2 oz. can crushed pineapple
2 cups pecans, chopped
2 Tbsp. chopped onion
1 Tbsp. salt

Combine above ingredients except for 1 cup of the pecans. Form into small balls in the pecans you saved out.

CHEDDAR CHEESE BALLS
1/8 lb. butter at room temperature
6 ozs. neutral sharp cheddar cheese spread
3/4 cup all-purpose flour

Blend butter with cheese, work in flour and form mixture into balls and refrigerate several hours. Just before serving, bake 10 minutes in hot oven.

STUFFED DILL PICKLES
Cut ends from 6 dills. Remove insides. Cover with 1-1/3 cups light brown sugar and 4 cloves garlic. Let stand in refrigerator 2 or 3 days.

Filling: 1 cup cream cottage cheese (served), 1 can drained ham, 1/4 cup chopped pecans.

Dissolve 1-1/2 teaspoon gelatin in 3 tablespoons cold water. Heat over boiling water. Add to cheese mixture. Stuff dills and chill. Slice 1/3 inch.

TUNA DIP
1 large carton sour cream
1 package (dry) Italian seasoning
1 can tuna, drained
Dash of Tabasco (opt.)

Mix well. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Serve with corn chips.

JEZEBEL SAUCE
1 18-oz. jar pineapple preserves
1 5-oz. jar prepared mustard
Salt to taste
1 18-oz. jar apple jelly
1 5-oz. jar horseradish
Pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients with electric mixer. Keeps indefinitely in refrigerator. Serve over softened cream cheese with crackers. Also delicious with ham or egg rolls.

Powdery Mildew

Many homemakers have problems with powdery mildew on crepe myrtles. Many of the older crepe myrtle varieties are especially susceptible to the disease. You must apply fungicides often to protect the foliage.

I suggest planting one of the mildew-resistant crepe myrtle varieties when possible. Most garden centers carry resistant varieties such as Red Tuscarora, Pink Potomac and Seminole, White Natchez, Lavender Catawba, and Muskogee.

If you have susceptible varieties and you want to control this powdery mildew, there are several fungicides on the market that will do a good job.

Flowering Bulbs
What care do spring- and summer flowering bulbs need? I advise removing the flower stalk after bloom has faded. This prevents the development of seed, which would use the food reserves in the bulb and cause smaller flowers, or none at all, next year.

Leave the foliage intact until it turns yellow, and then cut it down. If foliage is removed too early, food can't be made and stored in the bulb for next season's flowers.

Water Is Critical For Garden
In the Southeast, we get plenty of rain for home vegetable garden most years. The only problem is that it may not rain when plants need it most. During critical stages in plant growth, water is essential for good production.

The first critical stage is during the germination and transplant establishment. Seeds must take up water and swell before germination occurs. If they get a little water and start to swell but then dry out, the seed may die before they ever start to grow.

Transplants need frequent watering while they're establishing themselves in their new, harsher environment. Transplants from cups or individual packs will do no good better than bare root plants because the roots are disturbed less.

Other critical stages vary from plant to plant. Vegetables that make a fruit or pods normally have increased moisture needs when the plant starts to bloom and set fruit. Plants that make roots or tubers need extra water when they start to enlarge rapidly. Leafy vegetables need an even supply of moisture all along. Even moisture will help prevent fruit cracking and blossom end rot on tomatoes, peppers and watermelons. Almost all plants would benefit from irrigation during extended dry periods, especially shallow-rooted vegetables.

For established plants, deep wetting of the soil is much better than frequent light wetting. When irrigating, wet the soil at least six inches deep. The amount of water needed to do this will depend on the soil type. If your soil is very light, adding organic matter will help increase its water-holding ability. The more sand your soil contains, the more organic matter you'll need.

Adding a small amount of organic matter one time won't help much. It takes continued applications and possibly years of effort to see the results. Although the process is slow, the results can be dramatic. Heavy compacted soil may also benefit from additions of organic matter.

Liming Forage Fields And Pastures
One of the most frequently asked questions is how much lime should I apply to my land. This question is asked of people who have yards, crop fields, or forage fields. The only sure way to know how much lime to apply per acre is to run a soil test. The soil test kits are available here in our office. You can pick them up, take a sample anywhere from around 3-6 inches deep in the soil and send this sample into Auburn for a small fee. They will send you back to report form that not only gives you what fertilizer you need to apply, if any, but also how much lime to apply, if any.

For most forage fields and pastures, for instance, particularly bahia pastures in our area, I find many times that the soil test that cross our desks show a low pH or acid level in the soil due to the lack of time being applied over a period of years. I think there are a lot of reasons for this. One reason is that over the years cattle have not been as productive as say peanuts on a farm. So, a farmer was not willing to put as much money in the land to produce grass as he was to produce peanuts. However, if you have any desire to produce grass and to produce a lot of it, you need to lime. In fact, many soil scientists will tell you that if you have $40 and acre and put fertilizer out on a field of any kind and you need $30 worth of lime, to put out the $30 worth of lime per acre and then apply $10 worth of fertilizer. Basically what they are saying is this. Lime is your most important element for a healthy soil, if you need it. By liming the soil, you change the condition of the soil and in the southeast what we are trying to do is bring a low pH of say 5.4 or 5.2 up to at least 5.8 on a pH scale. And we would like to have it up around 6 or better if we can get it there economically.

The two types of lime that most people are familiar with are calcitic lime and dolomitic lime. To get a little technical, the basic difference between them is this. Calcitic lime is simply calcium carbonate and dolomitic lime is calcium magnesium carbonate. Most lime pits that produce lime are tested by the state and the purity usually ranges anywhere from 75-99%. Most of it you buy, though, is going to be 94% pure limestone.

There are a couple of things that will happen to your soil once you apply lime. One thing that happens is the organic matter decomposition is enhanced. The little bacteria that live in the soil that break down the organic matter live more comfortably in a more balanced environment once lime is applied. Also, the availability of the phosphorus in your soil will increase, the availability of magnesium will increase and the potassium is more easily taken up by the plant once the proper amount of lime is applied.

There are several ways to apply lime to your soil. The most common way is to hire a business that handles bulk lime to send a truck out to do it mechanically. Some people choose to put lime out themselves with some equipment they have on the place.

Generally here in the south, a good time to lime is over in the fall. If you are double cropping a field, you might lime between the crop. For instance, if you plant corn and then harvest and come in with winter grazing, you may want to put lime on between the harvest of the corn and the planting of winter grazing or when it's most convenient, but the fall season is usually the easiest time to put out lime and then also come back in the spring with your fertilizer. Putting lime in the fall gives the lime time to leach and move down in the soil. It leaches about an inch a year down into the soil. Contrary to popular belief, lime does not seep horizontally or across the field that well. It's the same in a pond. If you apply lime to your pond and just dump it in one place, it's not going to move through that pond very well. You have to pretty well spread it over the whole pond or the whole field.

Applying lime can really enhance your crop yields. In forages where we have

Views From THE PRESSBOX By Ricky Mularz, Editor

I was looking forward to umpiring last weekend because the weatherman said there was no chance of rain and the temperature would be in the low 80's with winds from the north. Well, it didn't rain, but the temperature left the low 80's early Saturday morning and the only wind I felt was from the swing of the bats. I guess you can't win 'em all!

ELBA CLASSIC FEATURED TOP TEAMS

The 12th annual Elba Softball Classic was held last weekend and for those of you who missed it, all you missed were 25 ballgames involving some of the best teams in the nation, 356 home runs and a total of 843 runs scored. When you average it out, that was almost 14 home runs a game and over 32 runs per game. There was plenty of offense, obviously!

Don's Backhoe, of Montgomery, was the pre-tourney favorite and after the team waltzed through five games and scored a total of 125 runs it wasn't hard to figure out why. The Montgomery based team hit almost 14 home runs per game and defeated every opponent in five innings due to the 10-run rule. There were plenty of good teams in town over the weekend, but there was no argument which was the best!

Perhaps the most exciting team in the event was Hickory Hammock, the three-time national church champs. Hammock lost its first game in the tourney 27-16, but then got cranked up and scored 39, 39, 32 and 32 runs in its next four games to get back in the hunt for the title. The team finally got ousted 28-27 Saturday night and had to settle for third, but Hickory Hammock put on quite a show.

BASEBALL LEAGUES DRAWING TO A CLOSE

The Babe Ruth and Dixie Youth Baseball League seasons are quickly drawing to a close and while it has been a good year in the Dixie Youth League, the Babe Ruth League has struggled a bit and appeared to be suffering from a lack of players.

The Dixie Youth pennant chase seems ready to go down to the final week of the season and the season has been one of the most balanced in years. The Astros and Tigers are the front-runners and should take the top two spots without much problem, while the third spot in the six-team league is up for grabs. The Dixie Youth League is always filled with fun and excitement and this year has been more of the same.

The Babe Ruth League got off to a fast start with a lot of close games, but in recent weeks all the teams have had a problem having enough players to field a team and it hasn't exactly been a season to remember. I don't know if the league needs new coaches to pump new blood into the program (the league has four outstanding coaches now) or if league officials need to do a better job recruiting the younger players coming out of Dixie Youth. The Babe Ruth program has been a good one for years and I'm sure it will bounce back strong.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK CHOSEN

As the baseball seasons begin to wind down the players are really beginning to sparkle and again this week it took a lot of hard thought to pick the top performances in each league. I looked at both books for quite a while and think I came up with two players who definitely earned their trophies. Here goes...

In Dixie Youth the honor goes to Keith Grantham, of the Tigers. Keith pitched a 3-hitter and struckout 10 batters in a big win over the Pirates, while at the plate he was even more impressive as he got 6 hits in 8 at-bats, including 4 doubles and a triple and knocked in 10 runs. A super week! Honorable mention goes to Cory Driggers, Tony Parker, Kevin Lawford, Perry Stinson, Jake Stokes, Michael Grantham and Zack Steele.

In Babe Ruth last week's top performer was Ron Bryan, of the Dodgers. The Dodgers ran out of players several weeks ago, but Bryan has never lost his enthusiasm and last week got 5 hits in 8 at-bats, including 2 doubles and knocked in 4 runs. Honorable mention goes to Shane Spurlin, Shane Blanton, Vince Hudson, Joe Johnson, Derick Deal and Shawn Diehl.

IN CLOSING...

As the seasons near an end it means it's All-Star time and this year the All-Stars will be going at it in Andalusia and Opp in Babe Ruth action, while the Dixie Youth stars will host the sub-district tourney in Elba. I urge all baseball fans to come out and support these guys as they attempt to advance to state competition!

But God said unto him, thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then those shall those things be, which thou hast provided. Luke 12:18-20.

AWARENESS -- God, let me be aware, Let me not stumble blindly down the ways, Just getting somehow safely through the days, not even groping for another hand, Not even wondering why it all was planned.

Eyes to the ground unseeking for the light, Soul never aching for a wild-winged flight, Please, keep me eager just to do my share, God, let me be aware.

God, let me be aware, Stab my soul fiercely with others' pain, Let me walk seeing horror and stain, Let my hands, groping, find other hands, Give me the heart that divines, understands, Give me the courage, wounded, to fight, Flood me with knowledge, drench me in light, Please, keep me eager just to do my share, God, let me be aware.

According to the director of this national, non-profit foundation, an estimated half-billion dollars is available to high school and college students, many of whom may not know they are eligible. Funds are contributed by corporations, trade, civic and non-profit groups and are normally awarded on such bases as academic standing, college major, geographic preferences, areas of special interest, and even on the student's willingness to consider a special research project.

Parental factors such as union, employer or past military experience are also considered by some donors.

The Scholarship Bank works with financial aid counseling offices throughout the U.S. to assist in distribution of the information on the approximately 3,500 scholarship sources. Each scholarship has a value of at least $1,000 and many are renewable yearly.

Graduate level grants with values of up to $25,000 are also available. All students receive from 20 to 65 different aid sources for which they are potentially eligible.

For the 1988-89 school year, a number of new aid sources are available to students majoring in law, business, health, engineering, computer sciences and the humanities. Three national organizations are funding older women returning to school.

health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.05 parts per million (ppm) which has been adopted by ADEM.

Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk even with short-term exposure is to young children and pregnant women.

Although some lead may be obtained from drinking water, the majority of the lead you are exposed to comes from air and from food. Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

*If your home or water system has lead pipes, or

*If your home has copper pipes with lead solder, or

*If you have soft or acidic water, or

Although the water furnished by this system meets ADEM standards for lead, contamination caused by the water reacting with lead piping or lead solder in copper plumbing may occur. Lead pipes have not been used in plumbing or in water systems for many years. Lead pipes are soft, malleable, and shine when scratched with sharp metal. You should determine if your house has lead plumbing and if so, have a chemical laboratory test a sample of water for lead.

If your home plumbing system contains copper pipe, there is a strong probability that lead solder was used in connecting these fittings. Testing of the water is the only way to be sure of the amount of lead which might be in your water and this is especially important in apartment dwellers because flushing may not be effective in multi-family buildings.

Even with lead solder in copper plumbing or lead plumbing, there are measures you may take to avoid consuming water containing increased amounts of lead:

1. Use only the cold water tap for food preparation especially baby formula.

2. Ensure that future plumbing installation or repair is performed using lead-free solder.

3. Instead of using water for drinking or for cooking that has been in your water heater overnight, use the water for other activities such as washing dishes or taking a shower.

4. Hot water dissolves lead at a more rapid rate than cold water and therefore hot water should not be used for consumption nor for cooking.

Police Urge All Boaters To Use Preservers

Most of the people who died in boating accidents last year drowned in inland water, many were within a few feet of safety. Most of those who drowned owned lifejackets, but when they died, they were not wearing them.

The Alabama Marine Police Division urges people who use small boats to make sure, before leaving shore, that everyone on board is wearing a well-fitting lifejacket.

The law requires that each boat must have on board a personal flotation device for each person. If the boat is longer than 16 feet, wearable flotation devices are required.

However, the Division warns if the lifejacket is tucked away inside the boat and not worn, boaters take a chance in becoming a boating statistic. Most fatal accidents are capsize or falls overboard. They happen suddenly, without warning and with no time to get into a lifejacket.

If boaters fall into the water, lifejackets keep them floating while they tend to urgent business, such as climbing back on their boats, getting to shore or keeping still in the water to forestall hypothermia until help arrives.

The lifejacket is your friend for life, advises the Division.

State Lists Job Openings

The Alabama State Personnel Department this week announced examinations for filling present vacancies in the following positions:

Reduction In Wheat Program Announced For 1988 Season

On May 25, 1988, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Peter C. Myers announced a required ten percent acreage reduction and other provisions of the 1989 wheat program.

Other provisions of the 1989 wheat program include:

- *** A price support loan and purchase rate of $2.06 per bushel, a 20 percent reduction from the basic loan and purchase rate of $2.57.

Myers said the downward adjustment was determined necessary to maintain U. S. wheat competitiveness in domestic and international markets.

*** This is the statutory minimum and seven percent below the 1988 loan and purchase rate of $2.21 per bushel.

*** The established target price is $4.10 per bushel, the statutory minimum, and down three percent from the 1988 target price. A paid land diversion will not be implemented, no marketing loan or related program provisions will be implemented. Producers will be required to maintain in acreage conservation reserve an area equal to 11.11 percent of program payment acreage.

CARD OF THANKS

My family and I are deeply grateful to my relatives, neighbors and friends for the love and kindness extended to us during the recent loss of my home on June 1, 1988.

A special thanks to the Elba and New Brockton Fire Departments, the Elba Rescue Squad, and the medical staff at Elba General Hospital for handling this tragic situation in a very sympathetic yet professional manner.

Police Urge All Boaters To Use Preservers

Most of the people who died in boating accidents last year drowned in inland water, many were within a few feet of safety. Most of those who drowned owned lifejackets, but when they died, they were not wearing them.

The Alabama Marine Police Division urges people who use small boats to make sure, before leaving shore, that everyone on board is wearing a well-fitting lifejacket.

The law requires that each boat must have on board a personal flotation device for each person. If the boat is longer than 16 feet, wearable flotation devices are required.

However, the Division warns if the lifejacket is tucked away inside the boat and not worn, boaters take a chance in becoming a boating statistic. Most fatal accidents are capsize or falls overboard. They happen suddenly, without warning and with no time to get into a lifejacket.

If boaters fall into the water, lifejackets keep them floating while they tend to urgent business, such as climbing back on their boats, getting to shore or keeping still in the water to forestall hypothermia until help arrives.

The lifejacket is your friend for life, advises the Division.

State Lists Job Openings

The Alabama State Personnel Department this week announced examinations for filling present vacancies in the following positions:

Reduction In Wheat Program Announced For 1988 Season

On May 25, 1988, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Peter C. Myers announced a required ten percent acreage reduction and other provisions of the 1989 wheat program.

Other provisions of the 1989 wheat program include:

- *** A price support loan and purchase rate of $2.06 per bushel, a 20 percent reduction from the basic loan and purchase rate of $2.57.

Myers said the downward adjustment was determined necessary to maintain U. S. wheat competitiveness in domestic and international markets.

*** This is the statutory minimum and seven percent below the 1988 loan and purchase rate of $2.21 per bushel.

*** The established target price is $4.10 per bushel, the statutory minimum, and down three percent from the 1988 target price. A paid land diversion will not be implemented, no marketing loan or related program provisions will be implemented. Producers will be required to maintain in acreage conservation reserve an area equal to 11.11 percent of program payment acreage.

CARD OF THANKS

My family and I are deeply grateful to my relatives, neighbors and friends for the love and kindness extended to us during the recent loss of my home on June 1, 1988.

A special thanks to the Elba and New Brockton Fire Departments, the Elba Rescue Squad, and the medical staff at Elba General Hospital for handling this tragic situation in a very sympathetic yet professional manner.

HONORED UPON RETIREMENT...Edd Cooper (l) was honored recently upon his retirement from the United States Postal Service. Cooper delivered the mail on Rt.2 and Rt.4 in Elba for over 30 years and in the picture above is being presented with a certificate of achievement by Elba Postmaster Bill Bullard.

Cooper retires at Elba Post Office

The Elba Post Office lost one of its most experienced and dedicated carriers recently when Edd Cooper retired after over 30 years of service. Cooper officially retired from the United States Postal Service on April 30, 1988 and was honored upon his retirement by Postmaster Bill Bullard and his fellow postal workers.

Cooper was appointed rural carrier on Rt.2, Elba on September 3, 1960 and delivered the mail on Rt.2 for two years before being transferred to Rt.4, Elba. He delivered the mail on Rt.4 until his recent retirement.

AEC acquires $7.8 million loan

United States Rep. William L. Dickinson announced last week the approval of a guaranteed loan of $7.8 million for the Alabama Electric Cooperative, of Andalusia.

"The loan, guaranteed by the Rural Electric Administration in Washington will finance the construction of bulk transmission facilities to integrate a planned Compressed Air Energy Unit into the Alabama Electric Cooperative's existing transmission facilities," stated Dickinson. "The Compressed Air Energy Storage Unit, which will receive additional funding from the R.E.A., will be the first of its kind in the nation. This revolutionary facility was designed by R.E.A. and the Electric Power Institute of Palo Alto, California to utilize compressed air pumped in high volumes into an underground storage area. The air is released under pressure to drive above-ground turbine generators."

"The approval of this substantial loan for the Andalusia district of the A.E.C. will mean the eventual realization of improved service for thousands of electrical customers," said Dickinson. "The Alabama Electric Cooperative has always done a very fine job in keeping pace with the growing energy demands of south Alabama and I look forward to the completion of this very meaningful project."

The unit will be energy saving and cost effective by allowing the A.E.C. to increase the efficiency of existing generating plants during off-peak electrical use hours," added Rep. Dickinson.

Joe Smith (center left) and Wilson Dyess (center right) were honored with a reception upon their retirement at MacArthur State Technical College. A plaque was given to Joe Smith in honor of 14 years of service as air conditioning and refrigeration instructor. Wilson Dyess was presented with a silver tray in recognition of 15 years of service as business education instructor. Raymond V. Chisum, president, (left) and Tracy Bundrick, faculty chairperson, (right), at MacArthur along with family members, fellow faculty and staff congratulated Dyess and Smith upon their retirement.

Smart & Dubose set for runoff clash

Voters in Coffee County's District 1 will return to the polls on Tuesday, June 28, to choose a member of the county commission. Leon Smart, a successful farmer and merchant in the Jack Community, placed first in the primary two weeks ago with 524 votes and will face political newcomer Jim Dubose, a poultry farmer in south Coffee County, who placed second with 324 votes. The runoff in District 1 will be the only race on the Democratic ticket next week.

Qualifying to begin today for

Aug.23 municipal election in city

The City of Elba elections for 1988 have been officially called by city officials for August 23. Qualifying begins on Thursday, June 23 (today) and continues until July 19th at 5 p.m.

New laws apply this year to candidates for city offices. These will be carefully explained to candidates as they pick up qualifying papers at city hall.

Compliance with these laws is very important, as the penalty is disqualification and removal of the candidate's name from the ballot for not fulfilling these requirements.

The first is the need to file, within 5 days of qualifying, a statement of the candidate's campaign committee. This is filed with the probate judge and can include from one to five people. It is permissible for the candidate to be a committee of one, but it must be so stated on the forms.

Also within ten days of qualifying, a candidate must file with the State Ethics Commission the same forms that are presently filed by officeholders.

Following the election, all candidates must file within 30 days of the election, a full campaign donation and expenditure report. This will include all donations over $10.00 and all expenditures over $5.00.

Again the penalty can be removal of the candidate's name from the ballot and/or the prevention of the successful candidate from taking office.

Water shortage continues in Elba

Local citizens are not heeding a warning by city officials on a need cutback in the use of water for nonessential purposes during the extreme drought we are experiencing.

Mayor Bob English noted this week that on several days last week water usage exceeded the pumping capacity of the wells. He explained that the Elba water system is designed to supply about 750,000 gallons a day. During this hot dry season, Elba water users are using in excess of 1 million gallons a day. This will cause problems within itself and a large fire would completely deplete the already short water supply.

Last week English asked citizens to observe an odd/even system of watering lawns and washing cars and other non-essential uses.

He urged the people North of U. S. 84 not to water lawns on Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

People South of U. S. 84 are urged not to water lawns or wash cars on Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday.

English explained that at present it is not a panic situation and with help from water users, such a situation can possibly be prevented.

Federal grant to provide meals to low-income families in county

Alabama Congressman Bill Dickinson announced last week that approval had been received on a federal grant that will provide adequate meals for certain low-income families in Coffee, Geneva and Houston counties.

Dickinson said that he was notified that the Human Resource Development Corporation, a non-profit community action agency headquartered in Enterprise, would be receiving a $50,000 grant from the United States Department of Health and Human Services.

"These funds will enable the Human Resource Development Corporation to begin a program of nutritional services and education to an area that previously hadn't been served," stated Dickinson. "The non-profit organization already provides such assistance to eight Wiregrass counties and this grant will allow the addition of Coffee, Geneva and Houston counties as well. With these funds, the Human Resource Development Corporation hopes to hire a full time nutritionist and a number of part-time workers to come into select homes and work with homemakers to provide nutritious meals. The money will also be used to purchase emergency food stuffs to be distributed to certain families in the service area during the crisis situations."

"I am pleased to have been able to pass along the good news of this grant," added Dickinson, "and I look forward to the same success that is being realized with the vital program in the surrounding southeast Alabama counties."

Shooting took place at park in Elba

A shooting that occurred last week near a teen center in Elba actually occurred some 400-500 yards from the center, not inside the center, as was reported in last week's edition of The Elba Clipper.

According to witnesses at the scene and Elba police, the shooting took place as a car passed a park on Stoudemire Street, which is located approximately 500 yards from the center, and the victim was on property of the Elba Board of Education. The Elba Clipper regrets any embarrassment the error in last week's edition may have caused the owners of the center.

State ranks low in 1988 public education statistics

The National Education Association recently released its latest estimates of current school statistics throughout the United States, with comparative rankings in many areas and according to the Alabama Education Association the numbers prove that the state still lags far behind in virtually every statistical category for measuring public education.

The release from AEA stated that it was apparent from the numbers that Alabama was quickly sliding down the scale of educational excellence. The pupil-teacher ratio remained near the highest in the nation, while per pupil expenditures were again close to the bottom. The reduction in average teacher salary weakened the state's ability to attract top quality instructors and according to the AEA the state's commitment to building a quality educational program in elementary and secondary grades continued to slide down hill.

Following are categories and comparisons of the state with others across the nation:

CLASS SIZE

Alabama's pupil-teacher ratio remains among the highest in the nation, ranking only behind four other states with larger class sizes. The figures showed that Alabama's average class size in 1988 was estimated at 18.7, above the national average of 16.31.

PER PUPIL EXPENSES

Alabama remained mired in the basement in terms of the amount of money expended per pupil in public schools. The total per pupil expenditure of $2,982 placed the state 50th, ahead of only Arkansas and behind Mississippi.

EDUCATION REVENUE

Alabama remained mired in the basement in terms of the amount of money expended per pupil in public schools. The total per pupil expenditure of $2,982 placed the state 50th, ahead of only Arkansas and behind Mississippi.

According to AEA, Alabama simply does not have a sufficient revenue base to properly fund education. "The state school's rely heavily on the state for the bulk of funding, yet the state ranks 30th in terms of state dollars per pupil. Only New Mexico and Hawaii rank below the state in the amount of ad valorem taxes that go to support education. Combined total revenues per pupil in Alabama rank dead last, nearly $2,000 below the national average."

It is a question of priorities, according to AEA. In any teaching and learning formula, the teacher has to be the best and classroom teachers with professional level education and skills are demanding better salaries.

TEACHER SALARIES

Teacher salaries in Alabama continued to move downward in 1988
